REPORT.

NEW ORLEANS, January 1, 1873.

To the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Louisiana:

The Board of Administrators of the Charity Hospital have the honor to lay before you a statement of the affairs of that institution for the year 1872. From the clerk's report it will be seen that the number of patients admitted during the year was five thousand five hundred and forty-six, and the number of deaths eight hundred and twenty-five.

The number admitted is eleven hundred less than during the previous year. The greatest number was admitted in the months of January and February; the least in June and July; and, taking the months of May, June, July, August, September and October, which may be considered the temperate and hot season of the year, the admissions were twenty-five hundred and fifty-three, the deaths three hundred and sixty-three; while in the months of November, December, January, February, March and April the admissions were twenty-nine hundred and eighty-eight, and the deaths four hundred and sixty-two; so that, during the past year, and in the absence of epidemics, the mortality was about thirty per cent. greater in the colder months of the year.

The most prevalent disease was malarial or intermittent fever, the admissions numbering twelve hundred and seventy-seven. The most fatal diseases were—consumption, one hundred and seventy-six; dysentery and diarrhoea, eighty-seven; pneumonia, forty-nine; and the deaths from all fevers were seventy-three.

From the Secretary's report, which will be found very complete and satisfactory, it will be seen that the total expenses for the year amount to one hundred and twelve thousand three hundred and fifty-six dollars and sixty-four cents, being eight thousand four hundred and sixty-seven dollars and twenty-five cents less than those of the previous year. A detailed statement of the expense for each month, showing the cost of all the different articles supplied during the year, is furnished. This table shows that the expense for the last six months is nearly fifteen thousand dollars less than the expense for the first six months of the year—a result of management which is highly gratifying to the present administration.

The amount expended on repairs during the year was four thousand six hundred and seventeen dollars and forty-two cents. The only improvement made has been a drying room to the washing department, put up under the direction of Mr. Beckwith, which, in the winter months, has proved very useful.

The administration regret to say that the financial condition of the institution has become embarrassed by a heavy debt which has been contracted entirely during the past three years. On the first of January, 1868, the treasurer's account with the hospital shows a balance on hand of thirty-seven thousand two hundred and thirty-two dollars and sixty-one cents. No appropriation was required or made by the Legislature for the coming year, and on the first of January, 1869, a balance remained with the treasurer of twelve thousand seven hundred and sixty-nine dollars and eleven cents. The Legislature of this year transferred the tax on foreign passengers, which had brought the hospital a revenue for twenty years, to a bureau of emigration, and the tax on lotteries, which helped very materially to sustain the institution, was at the same time transferred to the school fund.

The appropriations made in return for the cash revenues transferred were quite liberal, but the State warrants in which they were received kept continually depreciating in value. In 1871 the loss by discount on State warrants (sold at a little over fifty cents on the dollar), amounted to seventy-nine thousand six hundred and twenty-eight dollars and twenty-five cents—a sum which in cash would have paid the whole expenses for the year. Of the appropriation made at the last meeting of the General Assembly, amounting to one hundred and fifty-five thousand dollars, ninety-seven thousand five hundred are still on hand. They are worth at the present value of warrants about forty thousand dollars, and the debts of the institution, as shown by the treasurer's report, amount to one hundred and fifteen thousand eight hundred and thirty dollars and forty cents, leaving a balance of debt due amounting to sixty-five thousand five hundred and thirty-two dollars and thirty-six cents on the first of January of this year. In the year 1843 a nearly equal amount of indebtedness was due by the institution, and the Board of Administrators at that time, in their annual report to the General Assembly (the fifteenth Legislature), made the following appeal: "With this valuable charity on our hands we confess to your honorable body that we begin the year 1843 with most painful forebodings. During the last thirteen years it has received into its wards for comfort and relief, when aid could not be expected elsewhere, more than fifty-nine thousand six hundred and twenty-one of our fellow creatures. These demands are annually increasing with the population of our great commercial mart. We can not close its doors; the sick, destitute and distressed must have relief. We dare not, if we were even so disposed, shut the door of charity against them. Thank God, there is no disposition in this community to do so. Yet, with the most economical administration of its finances during the past year within the recollection of the Board, we find ourselves at its termination oppressed with a load of debt amounting to sixty thousand nine hundred and one dollars and thirty-two cents."

Five years after this time, in 1850, the number of patients admitted into the hospital in this year was eighteen thousand four hundred and twenty-three, and to the present time, a period of thirty years, there have been admitted, treated and cared for no less than two hundred and ninety-five thousand seven hundred and eighty-six.

To relieve the present financial embarrassment of the institution, pay off the indebtedness and meet the expenses of the coming year, a very large appropriation in State warrants will be necessary.

An appropriation equivalent to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars cash is required, and it is very evident that estimating warrants at a greater value than can be realized, not only increases the debt of the institution, but adds to the cost of every article furnished upon credit.

It has been the endeavor of every administration of the hospital to secure through appropriate legislation a permanent revenue for its support and to avoid, if possible, the necessity of having to call upon the Legislature for annual appropriations. The administrators, in 1859, in their annual report, say: "The annual diminution of its revenues, derivable from the sources provided by law, renders the conclusion inevitable that the Charity Hospital will become a constant and heavy burden on the State treasury, unless speedy and effectual measures be taken to create for it a permanent and reliable income by taxation. It is suggested that the tax on theaters of five hundred*dollars be reinstated and the benefits provided by the act of 1857 be dispensed with. It is also suggested that fines imposed by the First District Court of New Orleans and the records of the city, be paid into the treasury of the hospital, especially since the State has assumed the payment of the expenses of the prosecution of criminals in the respective parishes."

The wisdom of these efforts on the part of the administration of the hospital is very apparent at the present time, when State securities are so depreciated. Contracts for the necessary supplies required for the hospital can not be made on favorable terms subject to payment derived from future legislation; it is safe to say that at least twenty thousand dollars per annum is lost to the State from the present credit system.

The tax on foreign emigration in the year 1854 produced a revenue of seventy-one thousand dollars; in 1855, forty-one thousand; in 1856, twenty-eight thousand (continually decreasing), and in 1868, three thousand eight hundred dollars, so that at the present time this tax brings but a very small revenue. The tax on lotteries in the year 1868 produced a revenue to the hospital of thirty-three thousand and thirty-five dollars. We would respectfully suggest that this tax be again restored. It must not be forgotten that it was solely in consideration of this revenue to the hospital that the Legislature of 1867 granted a charter to a lottery company at all.

By restoring to the hospital the revenues taken from it three years ago, the appropriation required will not be in excess of that of former years, and will not be considered burdensome to the State.

As in former years, we again urge upon your honorable body the establishment of an alms-house for "indigent and vagrant persons." We copy from the report of 1853, twenty years ago: "As yet no effort has been made by either city or State government to take cognizance of this class, by making provision for them in asylums or alms-houses, and bringing them under such subjection as will make their support the least burdensome to society. Beyond what has been done by the associated benevolence and enterprise of some of our citizens, our growing commercial capital has no one public edifice consecrated to the relief, support, training and moral care of our adult poor population."

In conclusion, the administrators can not help expressing their deep sense of the great loss which the institution, in common with all the citizens of our State, have sustained by the death, in the past year, of Dr. Warren Stone, Professor of Surgery in the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana.

Nowhere can the loss of the great professional ability and sound judgment of this eminent gentleman be more keenly felt and regretted than among the officers and medical men connected with the Charity Hospital, the field of so many years of his valuable and disinterested labor. This institution was the scene of his earliest professional efforts; it witnessed many of his greatest triumphs, and for a period of nearly forty years, a portion of which time he was its resident surgeon, the sick and wounded within its walls received the benefit of his almost daily visit. His devotion to its welfare only ended with his life. His valuable teachings and wise counsel, ever freely given to the officers of the institution in his simplicity of manner, which rendered them so pleasing, they can never forget.

Respectfully submitted.

A. E. BARBER, Vice-President,

For the Board.
